Good practice guidelines and staff code of conduct

To meet and maintain our responsibilities towards children we need to agree standards of good practice which form a code of conduct for all staff. Good practice includes:

- treating all children with respect
- setting a good example by conducting ourselves appropriately
- involving children in decisions that affect them
- encouraging positive, respectful and safe behaviour amongst children
- being a good listener
- being alert to changes in children's behaviour and to signs of abuse, neglect and exploitation
- recognising that challenging behaviour may be an indicator of abuse
- reading and understanding the setting's child protection policy, staff behaviour policy and guidance documents on wider safeguarding issues, for example bullying, behaviour, physical contact, sexual exploitation, extremism, online safety and information-sharing
- asking the child's permission before initiating physical contact, such as assisting with dressing, physical support or administering first aid
- maintaining appropriate standards of conversation and interaction with and between children and avoiding the use of sexualised or derogatory language
- being aware that the personal and family circumstances and lifestyles of some children lead to an increased risk of abuse
- referring all concerns about a child's safety and welfare to the DLO, or, if necessary directly to SSCB or the police
- following the setting's rules with regard to relationships with children and communication with children and families, including on social media

Abuse of position of trust

All staff are aware that inappropriate behaviour towards children is unacceptable and that their conduct towards children must be beyond reproach.

The Staff Code of Conduct sets out our expectations of staff and is signed by all staff members.

Support for those involved in a child protection issue

Child abuse is devastating for the child and can also result in distress and anxiety for staff/volunteers who become involved.

We will support children, their families, and staff/volunteers by:

- taking all suspicions and disclosures seriously
- nominating a link person who will keep all parties informed and be the central point of contact
- Where a member of staff is the subject of an allegation made by a child/parent/staff member, separate link people will be nominated to avoid any conflict of interest
- responding sympathetically to any request from child or staff for time out to deal with distress or anxiety
- maintaining confidentiality and sharing information on a need-to-know basis only with relevant individuals and agencies
- storing records securely
- offering details of helplines, counselling or other avenues of external support
- following the procedures laid down in our child protection, whistle blowing, complaints and disciplinary procedures
- co-operating fully with relevant statutory agencies.

Complaints procedure

Our complaints procedure will be followed where a child or parent/carer raises a concern about poor practice towards a child that initially does not reach the threshold for child protection action. Poor practice examples include unfairly singling out a child or attempting to humiliate them, bullying or belittling a child or discriminating against them in some way. Complaints are managed by Manager. An explanation of the complaints procedure is included in the setting's prospectus and displayed on the notice board in reception.

Complaints from staff are dealt with under the setting's complaints and disciplinary and grievance procedures.

Complaints which escalate into a child protection concern will automatically be managed under the setting's child protection procedures

Staff training

It is important that all staff receive training to enable them to recognise the possible signs of abuse, neglect and exploitation and to know what to do if they have a concern.

New staff and members of the management group will receive a briefing during their induction, which includes the providers safeguarding/child protection policy and staff behaviour policy, reporting and recording arrangements, and details for the DLO. All staff, including the manager and governors will receive training that is regularly updated and the DLO will receive training updated at least every 3 years including training in inter-agency procedures.

All staff will be made aware of the increased risk to abuse of certain groups, including disabled and SEN children, looked after children and young carers

Contractors

Contractors will not be allowed to work unsupervised.

Site security

Visitors to Clare House including contractors, are asked to sign in, which confirms they have permission to be on site. Parents who are simply delivering or collecting their children do not need to sign in. All visitors are expected to observe the setting's safeguarding and health and safety regulations to ensure children in are kept safe. The Manager will exercise professional judgement in determining whether any visitor should be escorted or supervised while on site.

Extended activities and off-site arrangements

All extended and off site activities are subject to a risk assessment to satisfy health and safety and safeguarding requirements. If other organisations provide services or activities on our site we will check that they have appropriate procedures in place, including safer recruitment procedures.
